European Choral Meeting

on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of the Battle of Nations the 100th anniversary of the Monument to the Battle of Nations

New Date! Leipzig, Germany, 6th to 9th June 2013 New Date!

ENCOUNTER VIA SONG

www.leipziger-chorverband.de

In October 1813, over 600,000 soldiers from all over Europe fought in and around Leipzig during the greatest battle of history until that time. Over 100,000 soldiers and civilians died in this decisive battle in the war against Napoleon, which was later called Battle of Nations. To commemorate the dead, the Monument to the Battle of Nations, the highest monument in Germany, was unveiled in 1913.

In 2013, Leipzig will be the place for a peaceful encounter all about music. Choirs from all over Europe will sing with and for each other. A central concert location will be the Monument to the Battle of Nations with its unique acoustics.

Welcome to Leipzig! Bach, Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, Schumann, Grieg, Wagner and many others lived and worked here. Music is in the air and brings people together.
